

Surviving the Insult – Through Interior Situational Awareness Modeling and Mayday Management for Incident Command – Strategic Considerations Unfolded Presented by William Greenwood

Surviving the Insult – Through Interior Situational Awareness Modeling

8:00 a.m. Friday and 1:00 p.m. on Saturday

This class will discuss recent fire dynamics studies, take an in depth look at thermal imager interpretation for greater decision making capabilities and take a hard look at how our PPE actually provides protection from Thermal Insult. Using our proven five step situational awareness model called Interior Benchmarking, we will show how to benchmark the interior conditions as you operate on the inside with five easy to remember questions. This will aid in making educated decisions on “GO and NO GO” tactics.

Mayday Management for Incident Command – Strategic Considerations Unfolded

1:00 p.m. Friday and 8:00 a.m. Saturday

This class focuses on increasing our Command Staff Team for the MAYDAY by front loading your run cards to provide the manpower needed to rescue one of our own and building a better Command Team through the use of CRM – Crew Resource Management, which is endorsed by the IAFC. Also to be discussed, will be the airline industry’s model of Pilot and Co-Pilot during normal and emergency operations in flight, and overlay their model onto the fire ground. Dispatchers’ roles and considerations will also be discussed.
